Members of the Eykamp String Quartet serve as principal string players of the Evansville Philharmonic and are Artists in Residence at the University of Evansville. The quartet performs free concerts throughout the year in the Tri-State area, ranging from schools, concert halls, and parks to hospitals and community centers. Since 2020, the quartet's "New Traditions" series has brought the music of over 40 underrepresented composers to audiences throughout the Tri-State. In addition to performing, the quartet leads workshops and sectionals with young musicians.

*The Eykamp String Quartet is made possible by the special underwriting of Rita, Richard, and Dorothy Eykamp,

Program Notes

UE Faculty Recital on November 18, 2025

Concerto for Two Oboes, Strings and Basso Continuo in F Major, Op. 9, No. 3

by Tomaso Albinoni

Albinoni was an important Italian composer during the Baroque period and a contemporary of Vivaldi. His works include at least 48 operas, concertos, sonatas, sinfonias, and cantatas. Many of his operatic works have been lost, but he published nine collections of instrumental works for which he is well known. This piece is one of the 12 delightful solo and double oboe concertos published in his Opus 9 set in 1722.

A Summer's Journey for Voice, Oboe, and Piano

by Eric Ewazen

The original version of this work was written in 2007 for soprano, trombone, and piano. This new version was adapted for oboe in 2025 for Linda Strommen, Professor of Oboe at Indiana University. There are five movements in the complete set. The texts are all poems that Schubert set, and the title of Ewazen's piece is a nod to Schubert's famous song cycle A Winter's Journey (Die Winterreise), which contains three of the same poems. The songs are all filled with beautiful imagery, particularly of nature, and personal feelings of love, sorrow, longing, happiness, and contentment.

The Stars

Text from Schubert song Die Sterne, by C.B. Von Leitner

How fair is the night with its great starry deep!
How oft have the stars called me gently from sleep!
I cannot complain of their waking me so.
They pour through the stillness a healing for woe.

They float high above us in angel array.
They light for the pilgrim his dark, stumbling way.
They tremble with love vows in loneliness sighed,
And bear many a kiss o'er the ocean so wide.

They shine with their love in the sufferer's face,
Embroid'ring his tear drops with clear silver rays.
They guide us who lie in the grave and the mould,
Up into the blue with their fingers of gold.

So be ye then blessed, ye vast hosts of light!
And lighten me peacefully on through the night!
And if love should take me, may love's bond be blest,
And may your clear glittering peace on us rest.

The Linden Tree

Text from Schubert song Der Lindenbaum, by Wilhelm Müller

Beside the dooryard fountain, there stands a linden tree.
How oft beneath its shadow sweet dreams have come to me.
Upon its bark so fragrant endearing words I've wrought,
In gladness or in sorrow its friendly shade I've sought.

Today I wandered sadly while fell the deep'ning night.
I passed the tree in darkness, I screened it from my sight.
The rustling of the branches seemed words but half expressed:
"Come here, beloved comrade, and find your former rest"
The bitter winds were blowing so coldly in my face.
My hat was borne behind me, I turned and fled the place.

Now many leagues divide me from that dear linden tree,
Yet still I hear it murmur "Thou couldst find rest with me".

Suite for Oboe and Piano (2005)

by Gwyneth Walker

Walker holds a DMA in Music Composition and is a former faculty member of Oberlin College. She left academia to pursue a career as a full-time composer and lives on a dairy farm in Vermont. Walker's works include over 180 commissioned works for orchestra, band, chorus, and chamber ensembles. For this work, Walker focused on the oboe's nature as a woodwind instrument as the inspiration. The four movements of the suite all have titles relating to the wind: "Catch the Wind", "Air", "Zephyr", and "Windy Blues."

Five Pieces for 2 Violins and Piano

by Dmitri Shostakovich

Shostakovich was a Soviet-era Russian composer and pianist, who became internationally known after the premiere of his First Symphony in 1926. He had a complex relationship with the Soviet Union's government. Some of his compositions were condemned or censored, and some performances of his music were subject to state interventions. Despite this, he was very successful. His works include 15 symphonies, 6 concertos, 15 string quartets, 24 preludes and fugues, song cycles, and works for theatre and film. His Five Pieces for 2 Violins is a collection that was arranged by Levon Atovmyan with the composer's permission. The five pieces are drawn from various ballet, film, and stage works by Shostakovich and are characterized by warm lyricism and Slavic charm.

Amuse-Bouches for Flute, Oboe and Piano

by Gary Schocker

Schocker is an American flutist, composer, teacher, and pianist, who has performed with the New York Philharmonic, the Philadelphia Orchestra, the New Jersey Symphony, and the Dallas Symphony. This chamber work is a series of short pieces that are designed to be like small, palate-cleansing "tastings" for the instruments. The title is a play on the French culinary term "amuse-bouche," which describes a small, complimentary appetizer served in a restaurant. Just as an amuse-bouche is a small bite to prepare the palate for a main course, the musical piece is intended to "amuse the mouth" of the instrument. The three movements are all named after foods: Saucisson sec (dry sausage), Pain au chocolat (chocolate croissant), and Cornichons (gherkins/pickles).

Notes and Text Translations, written by Bri Alley

Antonio Vivaldi (1678–1741) was one of the most famous composers of the late Baroque era. He is well-known for his nearly 50 operas, over 500 concertos, and large bodies of sacred choral music. Vivaldi composed Gloria in D, RV 589 in Venice, probably in 1715. The wonderfully sunny nature of the Gloria, with its distinctive melodies and rhythms, is certainly characteristic of all of Vivaldi's music. In the Roman Catholic tradition, the Gloria text is a hymn of praise used as the second part of the Ordinary of the Latin Mass, after the Kyrie. The work is divided into twelve sections; eight of which are composed for the entire chorus, with the remaining featuring soloists and one duet. Laudamus te is the passionate and rather enchanting duet for soprano and mezzo-soprano. As the mood lightens in the third section of the work, the Qui sédes ad dexteram Patris brings back the music from the beginning, resurrecting material from the first movement.

III. Laudamus te

Laudamus te benedicimus te Adoramus te, glorificamus te

We praise you

We praise you, We bless you,
We adore you, We glorify you.

X. Qui sédes ad dexteram Patris

Qui sédes ad dexteram Patris, miserére nobis.

Who sits at the right hand of the father

You who sit at the right hand of the father, have mercy on us.

Erich Korngold (1897–1957) is often associated with his film scores of the 1930s and 1940s. However, before arriving in Hollywood, he was well known for his concert and chamber music, opera and stage works, and as a conductor. Already playing the piano at a very early age, Korngold composed his first original works at the age of eight years old. Given his inspired melodic gift and proficiency in setting text and attraction to the singing voice, Korngold was inevitably drawn to composing songs. Fünf Lieder, Op. 38, of 1948 comprises several diverse works he wrote after World War II that all share his remarkable gifts for lyricism and evoking profound emotion with a few clever gestures. It is also valuable to mention that Korngold was a clever musical recycler, scattering several of his film scores' rich melodies throughout Fünf Lieder. The first song, Glückwunsch, developed from the main title theme of the 1946 film, Devotion, which was about a murderous love triangle involving an aspiring pianist, a jealous cellist, and a famous composer. The song is set to text by the German poet Richard Dehmel, words to a beloved that seemed to hint as much at uncertainty as to pure happiness. The song which follows, Der Kranke, is based on a theme from the 1939 film, Juarez. The wandering and melancholic melody accompanies text by the German poet Joseph Freiherr von Eichendorff. Expressed in gentle yet morbid tones with a repeated descending phrase in the piano, the song explores the perspective of a sick man who is reflecting in his last moments of life and recoiling in the fear of dying. Korngold wrote the third song, Alt-spanisch, in 1911 at the age of 14. It appears in the score of the film, The Sea Hawk (1940), in which both the picture and Korngold's music received Oscar nominations. The words were written by the screenwriter Howard Koch, who adapted The World of the Worlds and wrote the screenplays for Sergeant York, Casablanca, and several other films and television shows.

Glückwunsch

Ich wünsche dir Glück
Ich bring dir die Sonne in meinem Blick.
Ich fühle dein Herz in meiner Brust;
es wünscht dir mehr als eitel Lust.
Es fühlt und wünscht: die Sonne scheint,
auch wenn dein Blick zu brechen meint.
Es wünscht dir Blicke so sehnsuchtslos,
als trügest du die Welt im Schoß.
Es wünscht dir Blicke so voll Begehren,
als sei die Erde neu zu gebären.
Es wünscht dir Blicke voll der Kraft, die aus
Winter sich Frühling schafft.
Und täglich leuchte durch dein Haus
aller Liebe Blumenstrauß!

Der Kranke

Soll ich dich denn nun verlassen,
Erde, heit'res Vaterhaus?
Herzlich Lieben, mutig Hassen,
Ist denn alles, alles aus?

Vor dem Fenster durch die Linden
Spielt es wie ein linder Gruß.
Lüfte, wollt ihr mir verkünden,
Daß ich bald hinunter muß?

Liebe ferne blaue Hügel,
Stiller Fluß im Talesgrün,
Ach, wie oft wünscht ich mir Flügel,
Über euch hinweg zu zieh'n!

Da sich jetzt die Flügel dehnen,
Schaur' ich in mich selbst zurück
Und ein unbeschreiblich Sehnen
Zieht mich zu der Welt zurück.

Congratulations

I wish you happiness.
Within my gaze, I bring you the sun.
I feel your heart within my breast;
it wishes you more than pure joy.
Its feels and wishes that the sun will shine,
even when your eyes are close to tears.
It wishes you a gaze free of yearning,
as if the world protected you in its womb.
It wishes your eyes to be as full of wonder,
as if the world were on the brink of creation.
It wishes you a gaze so full of the strength that can create a spring out of winter.
And may your home shine daily
from a gleaming bouquet of love!

The sick man

Shall I now then leave you, joyful dwelling,
O earth, the happy home of my childhood?
Heartfelt love, audacious hatred,
is everything, everything gone?

Past my window and through the lime trees,
the wind stirs, as though in a gentle greeting.
Breezes, do you wish to warn me that I must soon depart?

Dear familiar and distant hills,
peaceful rivers in the valleys,
Oh, how often have I wished for wings
to soar away above you!

But now that my wings are spread,
when I recoil into myself,
I find an indescribable yearning
that I no longer want to leave my love:
my earth.

Alt-Spanisch

Steht ein Mädchen an dem Fenster,
In die Ferne schweift ihr Blick.
Blaß die Wangen, schwer ihr Herze,
Singt sie von entschwundnem Glück:
'Mein Lieb kehrt nicht zurück!'

Der Abend dämmert sacht,
Ein Stern ersehnt die Nacht.
Und im Winde klinget leise
eine bange Traummusik.
Wie ein Echo tönt die Weise:
'Mein Lieb kehrt nicht zurück!'

Old Spanish Song

A maiden stands at her window,
Her gaze reaches into the distance.
With pale cheeks and heavy heart,
she sings of vanished happiness:
'My love has not returned!'

The evening softly falls,
a star yearns for night.
And in the wind, gently, a fearful dream
of music can be heard.
This melody carries an echo:
'My love has not returned!'

The vocal compositions of Francis Poulenc (1899–1963) are some of his most outstanding works. Poulenc loved the voice and was greatly inspired by literary texts. The characteristics of a poem which influenced him were the words, the form, as well as the meaning of the text itself. Poulenc used poetry by Guillaume Apollinaire (1880–1918) for the song collection Banalités. Chanson d'Orkenise takes us to a made-up land where guards are posted up at the city gates. One person wishes to leave the town and states he will be leaving his entire heart there, while the other person wishes to enter the town with the intention to marry. The guards laugh at both men and let them pass, and the song concludes to the gates of the town closing slowly. Hôtel paints the image of someone smoking in a hotel room and wishing for nothing but the leisure of smoking. With the tempo marking of "very slow and lazy," and the last line, "I don't want to work / I want to smoke," everything about the song feels quintessentially French. Much faster than the previous song, Voyage à Paris shows the speaker's delights of traveling to Paris. Poulenc himself described the poem as "deliciously stupid" and aimed to set the poem with irony and poise. This is certainly reflected in the light-hearted character of the melody and the accompaniment. Arguably the most complex song of the cycle, Sanglots serves as a testament to Poulenc's dedication to modern poetry. The text, which interweaves two poems, starts first by depicting a heart that has broken from pain. The person the heart belongs to has succumbed to the notion that life is only pain until death. Earlier in the poem, Apollinaire writes, "This is the song of the dreamers / Who tore out their heart / And held it in their right hand." Then: "Here are our hands that life has enslaved." The text appears to validate the first poem, that there is no course of action one can take that will break the chain of pain and heartache. Sanglots evokes a consuming descent into an inner world of memory and regret, one that feeds to the conclusion that the meaning of life is to experience pain. It has been a part of life since the beginning of time and will continue until the end of time. The piece ends at a piano dynamic, as if the singer has nothing more to give and has accepted this pain.

Chanson d'Orkenise

Par les portes d'Orkenise
Veut entrer un charretier
Par les portes d'Orkenise

Song of Orkenise

Through the gates of Orkenise
A waggoner wants to enter.
Through the gates of Orkenise

Veut sortir un va-nu-pieds.

Et les gardes de la ville
Courant sus au va-nu-pieds:
'Qu' emportes-tu de la ville?'
'J'y laisse mon coeur entier.'

Et les gardes de la ville
Courant sus au charretier:
'Qu'apportes-tu dans la ville?'
'Mon coeur pour me marier!'

Que de coeurs, dans Orkenise!
Les gardes riaient, riaient.
Va-nu-pieds la route est grise,
L'amour grise, ô charretier.

Les beaux gardes de la ville
Tricotaient superbement;
Puis les portes de la ville
Se fermèrent lentement.

Hôtel

Ma chambre a la forme d'une cage
Le soleil passe son bras par la fenêtre
Mais moi qui veux fumer pour faire des mirages
J'allume au feu du jour ma cigarette
Je ne veux pas travailler je veux fumer

Voyage à Paris

Ah! la charmante chose
Quitter un pays morose
Pour Paris, Paris joli
Qu'un jour dut créer l'Amour
Ah! Quitter un pays morose
Charmante chose

Sanglots

Notre amour est réglé par les calmes étoiles
Or nous savons qu'en nous beaucoup
d'hommes respirent
Qui vinrent de très loin et sont un sous nos fronts

A vagabond wants to leave.

And the sentries guarding the town
Rush up to the vagabond:
'What are you taking from the town?'
'I'm leaving my whole heart behind.'

And the sentries guarding the town
Rush up to the waggoner:
'What are you bringing into the town?'
'My heart to be married!'

What a lot of hearts in Orkenise!
The sentries laughed and laughed:
Vagabond, the road is hazy,
love makes the head hazy, O waggoner!

The handsome sentries guarding the town
Knitted superbly;
Then the gates of the town
slowly closed.

Hotel

My room is shaped like a cage
the sun puts its arm through the window
But I who would like to smoke to make mirages
I light at the fire of day my cigarette
I do not want to work, I want to smoke.

Trip to Paris

Ah! How charming it is to leave a dreary place
For Paris, delightful Paris that once upon a time love must have created Ah! To leave a dreary place
A charming thing.

Sobs

Our love is ruled by the calm stars
now we know that in us many men have lived who came from afar and are one beneath our faces

C'est la chanson des rêveurs
Qui s'étaient arraché le coeur
Et le portaient dans la main droite

it is the song of the dreamers who tore out their heart and carried it in their right hand

Souviens-t'en cher orgueil de tous ces souvenirs
Des marins qui chantaient comme des conquérants
Des gouffres de Thulé des tendres cieux
d'Ophir
Des malades maudits de ceux qui fuient leur ombre
Et du retour joyeux des heureux émigrants

Remember the dear pride all these memories of the sailors who sang like conquerors of the gulfs of Thule, of the gentle skies of Ophir,
of the cursed sick people of those who fled from their shadow
and the joyous return of happy emigrants

De ce coeur il coulait du sang
Et le rêveur allait pensant
A sa blessure délicate

This heart ran with blood and the dreamer went on thinking of his delicate wound

Tu ne briseras pas la chaîne de ces causes
Et douloureuse et nous disait =
Qui sont les effets d'autres causes

You will not break the chain of these causes and his painful wound and said to us
Which are the effects of other causes

Mon pauvre coeur mon coeur brisé
Pareil au coeur de tous les hommes ✓
Voici voici nos mains que la vie fit esclaves

My poor heart, my broken heart, resembling the heart of all men
Here, here are our hands that life has enslaved.

Est mort d'amour ou c'est tout comme ✓
Est mort d'amour et le voici ✓
Ainsi vont toutes choses,
Arrachez donc le vôtre aussi

Has died of love or so it seems
Has died of love and here it is Such is the way of all things
Tear yours out, also

Et rien ne sera libre jusqu'à la fin des temps
Laissons tout aux morts
Et cachons nos sanglots.

And nothing will be free until the end of time
Let us leave all to the dead
And conceal our sobs.

Ned Rorem (1923–2022) was an American composer and writer who was born in Richmond, Indiana in 1923. He is most well-known for his art songs that include more than 500 works. He was the recipient of the Pulitzer Prize and a Grammy Award and served as the President of the American Academy of Arts and Letters. Ferry Me Across the Water is the ninth song of ten in the song cycle called Nantucket Songs. Rorem said himself, "these songs, merry or complex or strange, though their texts may seem, aim away from the head and toward the diaphragm. They are emotional rather than intellectual, and need not be understood to be enjoyed."

Ferry Me Across the Water

"Ferry me across the water,
Do, boatman, do."
"If you've a penny in your purse
I'll ferry you."

"I have a penny in my purse,
And my eyes are blue;
So ferry me across the water,
Do, boatman, do!"

"Step into my ferry-boat,
Be they black or blue,
And for the penny in your purse
I'll ferry you."

Benjamin Britten (1913–1976) was an English composer, conductor, and pianist. In the early 1940s, Britten found himself preoccupied with writing vocal works, particularly settings of English poetry. The eight settings of Thomas Hardy, Winter Words, Op. 52, were written in 1953. The cycle concludes with one of Britten's most impressive songs, Before life and after. The impassively repeated triads in the pianist's left hand coupled with the bare octaves above seem to be an unsophisticated device at surface level, but Britten uses this to symbolize a state of uncorrupted innocence, "before the birth of consciousness, when all went well".

Before life and after

A time there was – as one may guess
And as, indeed, earth's testimonies tell – before the birth of consciousness,
When all went well.

None suffered sickness, love, or loss,
None knew regret, starved hope, or heart-burnings;
None cared whatever crash or cross
Brought wrack to things.

If something ceased, no tongue bewailed,
If something winced and waned, no heart was wrung;
If brightness dimmed, and dark prevailed.
No sense was stung.

But the disease of feeling germed,
And primal rightness took the tinct of wrong:
Ere nescience shall be reaffirmed
How long, how long?

TRANSLATIONS/TEXTS

Hosanna to the Son of David - Text: Matthew 21:9

Hosanna to the Son of David: blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord.
Blessed be the King of Israel; blessed be the King that cometh in the name of the Lord:
peace in heaven, and glory in the highest places; Hosanna in the highest heavens.

Crucifixus - Text: Nicene Creed

Crucifixus etiam pro nobis;
sub Pontio Pilato passus et sepultus est.

He was crucified also for us,
under Pontius Pilate he suffered and was buried.

The Lamb - Text: William Blake

Little Lamb who made thee
Dost thou know who made thee
Gave thee life & bid thee feed.
By the stream & o'er the mead;
Gave thee clothing of delight,
Softest clothing wooly bright;
Gave thee such a tender voice,
Making all the vales rejoice!
Little Lamb who made thee
Dost thou know who made thee

Little Lamb I'll tell thee,
Little Lamb I'll tell thee!
He is called by thy name,
For he calls himself a Lamb:
He is meek & he is mild,
He became a little child:
I a child & thou a lamb,
We are called by his name.
Little Lamb God bless thee.
Little Lamb God bless thee.

Mass in C - Roman Catholic Mass (Ordinary)

Et resurrexit tertia die, secundum Scripturas. Et ascendit in cælum: sedet ad dexteram Patris. Et iterum venturus est cum gloria iudicare vivos et mortuos: cujus regni non erit finis. Et in Spiritum Sanctum, Dominum et vivificantem: qui ex Patre, Filioque procedit. Qui cum Patre, et Filio simul adoratur, et conglorificatur: qui locutus est per Prophetas. Agnus Dei, qui tollis peccata mundi, miserere nobis.
Agnus Dei, qui tollis peccata mundi dona nobis pacem.

I believe in one God, the Father Almighty Maker of heaven and earth, and of all things visible and invisible. and in one Lord Jesus Christ, the Only-begotten Son of God. Born of the Father before all ages. God of God, Light of Light, true God of true God. Begotten, not made: consubstantial with the Father, by Whom all things were made. Who for us men, and for our salvation, came down from heaven.

And was incarnate by the Holy Ghost of the Virgin Mary: and was made man. He was crucified also for us, suffered under Pontius Pilate, and was buried.

And on the third day He rose again according to the Scriptures. And He ascended into heaven, and sitteth at the right hand of the Father. And He shall come again with glory to judge the living and the dead: of Whose kingdom there shall be no end. And in the Holy Ghost, the Lord and Giver of Life: Who proceedeth from the Father and the Son. Who together with the Father and the Son is adored and glorified: Who spoke through the Prophets. And in One, Holy, Catholic and Apostolic Church. I confess one Baptism for the remission of sins. And I look for the resurrection of the dead, and the life of the world to come. Amen.

Holy, holy, holy, Lord God of Hosts. Heaven and earth are full of Thy Glory. Hosanna in the highest.

Blessed is He Who cometh in the Name of the Lord. Hosanna in the highest.

Lamb of God, Who takest away the sins of the world, have mercy on us.
Lamb of God, Who takest away the sins of the world, have mercy on us.
Lamb of God, Who takest away the sins of the world, grant us peace.

Gumberts Award Competition

WITH SUPPORT FROM

FRIENDS OF UE MUSIC

In 1979, W.A. Gumberts made a generous gift to the University of Evansville which established a trust fund in perpetuity to be distributed annually to recognize outstanding artistic excellence or achievement in art, music, drama, and creative writing.

Since 2014, the Friends of UE Music have generously underwritten the awards for the participants in the Gumberts competition. The Music Conservatory is grateful to the Gumberts family and the Friends of UE Music for their continuing support of this event.

PERFORMERS

Ali Braikat, percussionist, is an instrumental Music Education major from the studio of Professor Ross Erickson. Ali has served as the principal percussionist of the University Wind Ensemble and Symphony Orchestra since his freshman year. As a Music Education major, Ali is currently student teaching at Benjamin Bosse High School, and is preparing to graduate in May 2026. In 2024, Ali served as the President of the University of Evansville Chapter of the National Association for Music Education and currently holds an executive position in the Kappa Delta Pi Honor Society in Education. Ali also assists the Evansville Philharmonic Youth Orchestra in addition to his academic responsibilities. Outside of his University activities, Ali has worked alongside local music professionals in the Evansville Vanderburgh School Corporation (EVSC), EVSC Foundation, Jacob Ball Wish Fund, and Evansville River Brass serving as teacher, performer, and lifelong learner of the arts.

Brianna “Bri” Alley, mezzo-soprano, is from the studio of Dr. Alanna Keenan. Bri will graduate in May 2026 with a Bachelor of Science in Music. As an active member of the University ensembles, Bri has sung alto in University Choir for eight semesters, played standup bass in Jazz Ensemble, and joined the Wind Ensemble on double bass as well. Outside of UE, Bri has been an active member of the music community in Evansville, serving as an Alto Section Leader at Eastminster Presbyterian Church as well as working as Music Support Assistant at First Presbyterian Church and being a member of the Wide Awake Worship Band at First Presbyterian Church. Bri has served as an executive member of many student organizations, most recently as the President of the Beta Epsilon chapter of Sigma Alpha Iota. Bri has also participated in the Future of UE’s Archives ChangeLab for two semesters, specializing in the digitization of past and present concert programs presented by the Music Conservatory. After graduation, Bri plans to pursue graduate studies.

Melody Winfrey, soprano, is a vocal Music Performance major from the studio of Dr. Alanna Keenan. In addition to her studies, Melody studies piano with Professor Anne Fiedler and organ with Professor Robert Nicholls. Prior to her time at UE, Melody graduated summa cum laude with an Associate in Science at Vincennes University where she studied with Mark M. Snyder (voice) and Dr. Claudia Bossard (piano). While at VU, Melody was awarded the Outstanding Freshman Music Major as well as the Outstanding Student receiving an associate degree. At UE, Melody has been an active participant in the University Choir and a frequent soloist with the ensemble. In addition, she was the featured soloist for the One True Podcast hosted by Dr. Mark Cirino in association with the Hemmingway Society. As a student, wife, and mother, hard work is part of her daily commitment to meeting the demands of each aspect of her life. Her supportive husband, Richard, and her family are a driving force behind her success. Upon completion of her degree, Melody plans on pursuing her master’s degree within the next few years, pursuing solo opportunities, building a private studio, and working in music ministry.
